

Flossbach von Storch - Global Convertible Bond - R

Flossbach von Storch investment sub-fund under Luxembourg law (mutual fund) and authorised for distribution in Portugal.

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

The Flossbach von Storch - Global Convertible Bond represents a defensive alternative to pure equity investments. The convex profile of convertible bonds enables investors to profit from rising prices on the equity market while at the same time limiting price risks. Security selection is based on a fundamental analysis process using in-house valuation models. If no convertible bond is available for an underlying security that appears attractive, or if its structure does not match the desired profile, the fund management can combine bond and call option to present a similarly attractive structure. Other in-house valuation models include ESG questions, engagement, and voting. In addition, exclusion criteria defined as part of the Sub-Fund's investment policy are taken into account. Foreign currency risks are currently largely hedged. The fund invests globally in convertible bonds.

The Sub-Fund is actively managed. The portfolio is composed by the fund manager exclusively in accordance with the criteria defined in the investment policy, reviewed regularly and adjusted if necessary. The performance of the Sub-Fund is compared using the UBS Thomson Reuters Global Focus Hedged Convertible Bond Index as a benchmark. The investment manager is not linked to the Index at any time when making investment decision and the portfolio composition. Therefore, the performance of the Sub-Fund may differ significantly from the reported benchmark. The Sub-Fund is classified as an Article 8 product under the Disclosure Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 (SFDR).

For detailed information on the objectives and investment policy, please refer to the most recent sales prospectus and the Key Information Document (PRIIP-KID).

EXPLANATORY NOTES REGARDING PERFORMANCE

Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance. Performance is calculated based on the net asset value (NAV). The subscription fee, as well as other fees, are not taken into account and therefore have a negative effect on the performance of the investment. Example calculation (subscription fee included): An investor wishes to buy shares with capital of €1,000. Based on a maximum subscription fee of 5%, €50 will be deducted from their investment as a one off initial charge. In addition, custody fees may be applied. Please refer to the cost details presented in this document to determine the maximum subscription fee for the share class of the sub-fund.

The reference index is merely informative. It does not constitute any obligation to track the index or achieve the same performance for the fund manager.

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

There were notable interest-rate changes in December. In France, the risk premiums on 10-year government bonds rose to new highs for the year after Prime Minister Michel Barnier was voted out of office after only three months in power. Central banks provided fresh impetus in the second half of the month. The European Central Bank cut its key interest rate by 25 basis points (bps) to 3.00% and signaled further scope for interest-rate cuts by revising downwards both its inflation and growth forecasts for 2025 and 2026. The US Federal Reserve (Fed) cut its key interest-rate range by 25 bps to 4.25-4.50% but announced that it was planning only two interest-rate cuts in 2025 (instead of four, as announced in September). This led to some disillusionment on both the equity and bond markets. The yield on five-year US Treasuries rose by 33 bps to 4.38%, while the yield on German Bunds rose by 23 bps to 2.15%. In the USA, equities of companies with lower market capitalisation in particular suffered a setback, while in Europe and Asia the equity indices were able to gain (yield in December, including dividends: MSCI World: -2.6%; Nasdaq 100: +0.5 %; S&P 500: -2.4%; Russel 2000: -8.3% (each in US dollars); EuroStoxx 50: +1.9% (in euros); Nikkei 225 (in yen) +4.5%). Broadly speaking, convertible bonds were unable to escape the negative conditions on the interest rate and equity markets. Measured by the Refinitiv Global Focus Index (Euro hedged), the loss over the month was -2.0%. In contrast, the Fund held up well. The unit price performance in December was -0.0 %. The equity sensitivity in relation to convertible bonds was 32% at the end of December, while the equity sensitivity at fund level (including cash, equity derivatives and bonds) was 31% at the end of December.

OPPORTUNITIES

- + Investing in funds can deliver an attractive result at a lower level of risk compared to a direct investment in equities.
- + Income can be generated from regular interest payments.
- + Convertible bonds can increase in value when equity markets rise.
- + Derivatives can be used to increase potential yields.
- + Investing in assets denominated in a foreign currency can have a positive impact on unit values as a result of exchange rate movements.

RISKS

- Investing in convertible bonds may entail price risks, especially in the case of rising interest rates on the capital markets.
- Convertible bonds can decline in value when equity markets fall.
- Country, credit and issuer liquidity risk. Also potential exchange rate risks. If securities are illiquid (i.e. thinly traded), there is a risk that it may either not be possible to sell the assets at all or only by accepting a significant discount on the sale price. ESG criteria can restrict the selection of target investments in terms of category and number, sometimes considerably.
- Where used, derivatives can have a greater negative impact on the fund value than would be the case if the assets were acquired directly. This can affect the fund's risk profile and volatility (tendency for the price to fluctuate).
- The straight concentration on special markets can have a negative impact because of the dependent performance of these selected markets.
- Investing in assets denominated in a foreign currency can have a negative impact on unit values as a result of exchange rate movements.
