EXPLANATORY NOTES REGARDING PERFORMANCE

Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance. Performance is calculated based on the net asset value (NAV). The subscription fee, as well as other fees, are not taken into account and therefore have a negative effect on the performance of the investment. MONTHLY COMMENTARY

After a comparatively quiet summer, there were some market movements in September. Towards the end of the month, fears increased that economic growth could weaken also in the world's second largest economy, China, where the real-estate developer China Evergrande ran into payment difficulties and regulatory measures for technology companies unsettled investors. The Global MSCI World equity index (including net dividends, calculated in euros) lost 2.4 %. In particular, sharply rising energy prices fuelled concerns about rising inflation rates, which could increase pressure on central banks to raise interest rates faster than expected. In addition, the US Federal Reserve held out the prospect of reducing its bond purchases probably until the middle of next year. Against this backdrop, bond yields rose in both Europe and the USA, while the gold price despite rising inflation concerns fell by more than three % in US dollar terms and by more than one % from a euro investor's perspective. In this environment, the Fund recorded a decline in value of -2.6 %, which was mainly due to losses in equities and, to a lesser extent, gold holdings (indirectly). The other asset classes, conversely, had hardly any impact on the Fund's performance in September. Regarding equities, we sold our holding in L'Oréal. We also reduced positions in stocks such as 3M, Allianz, Microsoft and Salesforce.com, while making smaller additions to Evonik, Mastercard and Pinterest. At the end of the month, the equity ratio was 49.5 % and thus below the level of the previous month. On the bond side, we subscribed to a new euro issue by Cellnex, amongst others. On the other hand, we sold holdings in Alphabet as well as long-dated Japanese and US government bonds. At the end of the month, the bond ratio and total duration were correspondingly lower at 31.3 % and 4.9 years respectively.

Flossbach von Storch - Multi Asset - Balanced - RT

OPPORTUNITIES

- + Flexible investment policy without benchmarking.
- + Risk is broadly diversified by investing in a range of asset classes (e.g. equities, bonds, convertible bonds and precious metals indirect). Market potential can be exploited by investing across a wide range.
- + Investing in assets denominated in a foreign currency can have a positive impact on unit values as a result of exchange rate movements.
- + Derivatives can be used to increase potential yields.
- + Precious metals [indirect] (e.g. in the form of gold) can be used to increase potential yields.

RISKS

- Market risks: The securities in which the Management Company invests the sub-fund assets present opportunities for gain but also the possibility of risk. If a sub-fund invests directly or indirectly in securities and other assets, it is subject to many general trends and tendencies on the markets, which are sometimes attributable to irrational factors, particularly on the securities markets. Losses can occur when the market value of the assets decreases against the cost price. If a unit holder disposes of units in a sub-fund at a time when the quoted price of the sub-fund assets is less than at the time of investment, then the unit holder will not recover the full value of the investment. While each sub-fund constantly strives to achieve growth, growth cannot be guaranteed. The risk exposure of the investor is, however, limited to the sum invested. There is no obligation to make additional capital contributions beyond investors' investments.
- Currency risks: If a sub-fund holds assets which are denominated in foreign currencies, it shall be subject to currency risk. In the event of a devaluation of the foreign currency against the reference currency of the subfund, the value of the assets held in foreign currencies shall fall.
- Credit risks: The fund may invest part of its assets in bonds. The issuers of these bonds could become insolvent, causing the bonds to lose some or all of their value.
- Interest change risks: Investing in securities at a fixed rate of interest is connected with the possibility that the current interest rate at the time of issuance of a security could change. If the current interest rate increases as against the interest at the time of issue, fixed rate securities will generally decrease in value. Conversely, if the current interest rate falls, fixed rate securities will increase.
- Risks relating to the use of derivatives: The fund may enter into derivative transactions for the purposes listed in the KIID and the sales prospectus. This means increased opportunities, but also increased risk of losses. The use of derivatives to hedge against losses may also reduce the profit opportunities of the fund.
- Risks of precious metals and commodities: Precious metals and commodities may be subject to greater price fluctuations. Trading prices may also fall.

Please read the Prospectus and particularly the RISK WARNINGS section and the specific annex of the subfund to understand the risks and benefits of this product.

The Risk and Return profil of this sub-fund is included on page 3 of this factsheet.

The historical data used for calculating the synthetic indicator is not a reliable indication of the future risk and reward profile of the share class. The category shown is not guaranteed to remain unchanged and may shift over time. Even the lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment. This share class has been placed in the aforementioned risk class because its unit price is subject to medium fluctuation, therefore the profit potential and loss exposure may be moderate. Because of the calculation model used, all risks may not be taken into consideration when placing the share class in a risk class. Detailed information can be found in the section entitled "Risks" of the prospectus.
